OUR NEIGHBORS.

MAYSLICK.

Miss Jennie Evans is visiting friends in Flemingsburg.

Mr. J. C. Hopper and wife and Mr. P. P. Parker, of Maysville, were here last Sunday. The colored folks had a Christmas tree last Monday night and many were the presents thereon.

The usual quantity of red eye is being disposed of during Christmas week.

Perry Jefferson, of Lexington, is rusticiating here among his many friends.

The cold dry weather we have had for the past week is not very good on the young wheat.

The ladies of the Baptist Church of this place will give an entertainment at their church Friday night December 30th. All are invited to attend.

Thomas Fox, a colored citizen of this place, died on the 28th inst. W. A. Gibson, pastor of the Christian Church, preached the funeral on the 27th. A large concourse of friends followed the remains to their last resting place in our cemetery.

GERMANTOWN.

George Erlon, of Paris, is spending the holidays with his father.

Thurman Pollock and wife, of Illinois, are visiting friends and relatives here.

The dramatic club of Minerva rendered "Above the Clouds" at the town hall last evening.

A young man named Woodward, of Bridgeville, had his wrist badly cut while endeavoring to separate two men who were fighting.

There was union service of the two Methodist churches at the M. E. Church on Sunday night, conducted by the two pastors. H. C. Wright, preached an able sermon from the subject "The Unspokeable Gift."

Preparations are rapidly approaching completion for the entertainment at the Christian Church on Friday night. In addition to the production of the beautiful Cantata "Santa Claus Family," there will be a variety of music, recitations and tableaux. A picture gallery in charge of Nina Asbury, a lady of exquisite taste, promises to be a splendid affair.

The snow house at the M. E. Church, South on Sunday afternoon was quite a novelty in this section, and the entertainment connected with it a very delightful one. Numerous and appropriate presents were distributed by Santa Claus for outside friends, and a beautiful treat (such as the members of the school by their faithful Superintendent, T. M. Dora. We take this means of returning the thanks of the writer and other teachers for the elegant presents received from their respective classes.

ABERDEEN CLIPPINGS.

They say there will be a hop here this week.

William Turnipseed, of Manchester, spent Christmas with his parents at this place.

E. R. Wilson, who has been employed at Zanesville, O., is spending the holidays at home.

Mrs. E. J. Fulton and son, of Hillsboro, O., are visiting Mrs. Fulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chunn.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sutton and son O. T., accompanied by Captain William Linton, spent Christmas at Manchester.

Plum full and slopping over is the drug store with handsome New Year goods. Prices marked down. Call and see.

A. B. Botts, one of Aberdeen's prominent young men, left for Kansas Monday night, with the view of making it his home in the future.

Misses Jennie Ellis and Oma Payne visited Manchester Saturday. Miss Ellis returned Monday. Miss Payne staying on account of ill health.

F. M. Newton, a former Maysville man, now a prominent merchant of Cincinnati, was the guest of his sister Mrs. George Schiltz, Christmas.

Genial George Schiltz, one of the best hearted men in existence, was the recipient of a handsome gold Knights of Pythias charm for a Christmas gift.

Dyas King, commonly called "Dide," had a Christmas gift left at his house Christmas night in the shape of a bouncing girl baby. The cigars are on you, General.

The "Christmas Ship" at the Baptist Church Saturday night was a beautiful affair, and laden down with good things for the little folks. It was for the benefit of the Sunday school scholars.

A Miss Scott, daughter of Daniel Scott, after an illness of several weeks, died on Sunday last, and was buried Monday. Mr. Scott is a prominent farmer of his section, living just beyond the Adams County line.

Mrs. W. H. Clark and son Lionel have returned from a two week's visit at Concord, Ky. They were accompanied by Sam A. Wood her brother, a former resident of this place, now of Cincinnati, who had spent Christmas with his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wood, at Concord.

The following is the average grade of the High School at the examination previous to the close of school for the holidays:
Anna Cluxton, 82; Tillie Ellis, 94; Maggie Hartmann, 86; Jennie Hutsell, 79; Rallie McDaniel, 92; Lillie McDaniel, 96; Mary Reidel, 97; Blanche Reidel, 93; Lizzie Rothenbush, 88; Annie Simons, 76; Bettie Sherbar, 90; Anna Wheeler, 97; Iva Weaver, 75; Maud Weaver, 78; Lillie Wood, 96; Edith Hill, 94; Lydia Middlewarth, 85; Lizzie Shaw, 90; Jennie Shaw, 81; Iva Botts, 92; Willie Rine, 85; Jessie Boswell, 84; Willie Fulton, 90; Leslie Hill, 81; Arthur Hudson, 83; John Furdon, 79; Lee Simmons, 82; George Turnipseed, 90; Charles Turnipseed, 84; L. L. Mutschelknaus, 70; Edwin Lord, 70; Willie Howard, 76.

Over-worked Women.

For "worn out" "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being almost potent specific for all those chronic weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around our bottle. Price $1.00 a bottle or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on diseases of women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood cuts, sent for ten cents in stamps.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Legislature will convene at Frankfort to-morrow at noon.

OH, BOLD IS THE FROST.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes nipping and nipping
And painting the woodland over,
Till the woods are ablaze in the soft autumn haze
That hangs o'er the distant cover,
And the thin, crisp air to the meadow so fair,
Clings with the strength of a lover.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes tipping and tipping
His goblet of gems o'er the tree's
Till the acorns fall down from the oak's lofty crown
At every caress of the breeze,
And the woodland perfums and the grape's purple bloom
The world weary senses appease.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes sipping and sipping
The breath of the summer away,
And it kills in its strife that the springtime gave life
In the tender sunshine of May;
And it frights the wild bee in the hollow old tree,
And fills every heart with dismay.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes dipping and dipping
Its hands in each river and rill,
Till it stops their bright smiles and frolicsome wiles
And bids their blue wavelets lie still.
Then it trails its fierce hands o'er the innocent lands
And withers the valley and hill.

Oh, bold is the frost that comes gripping and gripping
With fingers so bitter and cold,
Oh, help those, good Lord, when the frost is abroad
Who have neither labor nor gold;
For the rich in their stealth they garner their wealth
With grimaces that cannot be told.
—Elizabeth Baker Bohan.

City Horses at Dinner.

Of all the barbarously stupid and wasteful contrivances man has invented the nose bag, out of which harnessed horses take their dinners, is the most ridiculous. Opposite my window as I write is a row of a dozen express wagons drawn up in front of the office. The horses are chasing their oats about in the depths of their nose bags or tossing three-quarters of their dinner away in their effort to capture the other fourth part of it. The street in front of them is strewn with oats enough to sow a crop from. The poor beasts are tantalized half out of their wits and have lost part of a necessary meal, and no one is the gainer but the sparrows. It would not seem difficult to invent a trough to rest on the shafts or pole of a wagon, and so feed the horses at their ease. The more sagacious of the brutes give a hint at this themselves, for you will often see them resting the bag on the pole or shaft in order to get at the low tide of grain within, which, by the way, may be taken to show once more that horse sense has points in it worth human consideration and adoption.—Alfred Trumble in New York News.

Well Water of Doubtful Quality.

As the country becomes older, wells which formerly yielded good water are becoming unreliable, and late in the season furnish water of doubtful quality. This fact is well understood in cities where artificial supplies of water replace that from wells. The same impurity in the water doubtless exists in many country wells, and is the cause of sickness and death at this season of the year. If the well is low have it cleaned out. This should be done wherever possible every two or three years. Most people will be surprised at the amount of impurities to be found in old wells whose water they may for years have been drinking. If the well never gets low enough to be cleaned out its water should be filtered before being considered fit for home use.—Boston Budget.

"No Man's Land."

TALEQUAH, I. T., Dec. 29.—The Cherokee council to-day appointed a committee to investigate the present status and condition of "No Man's Land," and to call the attention of the congress of the United States to the claim of the Cherokees to the territory. They claim, under the treaty of 1835, and under patents granted them in 1839, signed by President Martin Van Buren. They assert that their title to the territory is just as valid as their title to the land around Talequah. In the senate the whole time is being consumed in hearing evidence on contested seats. A great deal of interest is centered in congress and the proposed Indian legislation. All the white men who have married among the Indians, and the majority of the half-breeds are in favor of opening the territory and allotting the lands. They see in this action a rapid rise in the value of their holdings. The pure Indian element is against allotment and boomers, and will insist that the government stand by its treaties with the five nations.

Wrecked by Cocaine.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Dr. Bradley, the Chicago physician who lost an extensive practice and became a physical, mental and moral wreck through the use of cocaine, is now at the home for interpenates on Madison avenue, where he was given shelter after having been arrested for larceny and treated in Bellevue hospital. He has greatly improved in health under the treatment at the home, and believes that he has been cured of his passion for the fatal drug. He is still very weak and will remain where he is until a perfect cure is effected. His case has excited much interest among medical men here.

Peace in Guatemala.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 29.—In a range of mountains near the City of Guatemala a few days ago a desperate battle was fought between the Federal and Revolutionist forces, the latter suffering almost complete annihilation, the field being strewn with the dead. At the conclusion Castano was routed and the other Revolutionary generals were captured and shot. This ends one of the most bloody wars the country has ever seen. The republic now enjoys peace.

Killed While Coasting.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Late yesterday afternoon two boys were coasting down Fairmont avenue across West Third street. They ran into a street car passing just behind the houses. One of the boys, a son of Harvey Hevener, a well known merchant, had his head crushed by the wheels and died in a few minutes. He was six years old. The other boy, named Weible, was badly injured about the shoulders and head, but is expected to recover.

Steamship Company Fined.

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—The steamer Roman, which arrived here Thursday last, brought as stowaway a Scotch boy of eighteen and permitted him to land and escape. Commissioner of Emigration Colcord has fined the company $1,000, and the vessel is detained in port until the boy is returned or the fine paid.
